Background

Cork City Council began implementing a detailed housing construction programme under the Rebuilding Ireland Programme since 2016 and continues to evaluate the most effective ways to manage the housing requirements of the citizens of Cork City.

As a result, the use of technology solutions to increase efficiency in the housing application process was considered and an online portal is now being introduced for affordable housing applications.

Cork City Council will use the DORAS portal to allow persons to submit applications for affordable housing schemes online to replace the paper-based application process currently in existence. The system will allow for an automated process where users can work on and submit an application, track the status of their application and receive and respond to queries.
